Tattoos on the Heart

THE POWER OF BOUNDLESS COMPASSION

Homeboy Industries, founded by Father Gregory Boyle in 1986, is the largest gang intervention program in the country, offering job training, tattoo removal, and employment to members of enemy gangs and has become a national model in its effectiveness. Homeboy offers hope to those for whom all hope is lost.

In TATTOOS ON THE HEART: The Power of Boundless Compassion, Boyle condenses his work with these gang members—the homies—in the barrio of Los Angeles into a book of amazing stories and essays. He relays, with humor and breathtaking compassion, the heartbreaking and uplifting tales that surround him every day. Arranged by theme and filled with sparkling humor and generosity, it's an inspiring look at how to stay faithful in spite of failure and how to meet the world with a loving heart.

As Publishers Weekly notes, Boyle both recounts the despair of watching “the kids you love cooperate in their own demise” and levels the challenge to readers to “stand in awe at what the poor have to carry rather than stand in judgment at how they carry it.”
